GET BLUE RIBBON

WRITES A. E. WINSHIP IN ARTICLE ON BELLONS BROS' CATTLE.

ONE MUST WIN PRIZES

Do Not Be Content With a Little Praise, "Play to Galleries," is Lesson He Learned.

In the Journal of Education of Boston, Mass., for October 17, appears the following article on "Blue Ribbons," written by A. E. Winship of that publication, who was in Maryville last summer to lecture at the Normal school. The article is in regard to Bellons Bros' fine Shorthorn cattle, and is as follows:

It was a privilege the past summer to be on the farm of Mr. C. D. Bellons of Maryville, Mo., in whose home "den" the decorations were all of "ribbons," blue or red. There were literally hundreds of these ribbons, won by Shorthorn cattle in state, national and international exhibitions.

One group represented $7,500 in cash premiums, aside from the inexpressible honors that had been won at the same time.

Happy man? Proud man? Well, I do not need to answer that, but Mr. Bellons has cashed in on his happiness and pride. He has two auction sales a year, from which the receipts are fabulous.

He has one cow, not famous personally, whose calves, sold as yearlings, have brought $5,100, which makes a great investment. He sold one yearling heifer for $650, bought her back a few months later for $820, and sold her first calf at the auction for $1,500. One yearling bull, born and bred on the farm, brought $3,400 in South America, and one heifer born and bred on this farm was sold for $8,900 in the Argentine Republic, which is said to be the highest price ever paid for a Shorthorn heifer.

The educational lesson brought away from a half day on one of the finest Shorthorn farms in the country was that it pays to do the best work, to have the best stock, to give it the best care, but after all one must win prizes to get the greatest returns for one's efforts in any line. Would the great breeders of South America pay such prices for any animals unless they had become known the world over through winning the blue ribbon in an international stock exhibit?

Educationally, too many of us are contracted in our thoughts and think in too small units. We are content with a little local praise, with our own self-conscious opinion.

How many teachers get solid comfort in growling about other teachers and superintendents who "play to the galleries?" How many teachers consider it a virtue that no one knows of their superlatively good work but themselves? How many take pride in the fact that they can successfully hide their light under a bushel?

The schools of America must plan to win blue ribbons in the tests of the world.

No school can know the value of its work, just because it pleases its teacher. It is better to win the approval of a discriminating principal, better yet to win the appreciation of the superintendent who compares all schools of the system, but one can never be justified in real satisfaction who has not won blue ribbons in vital tests in contests over a large area.

ROADS AMENDMENT.

Tax of 10 Cents on $100 Valuation to Come Up in State Next Year.

Col. Frank W. Buffum, state highway commissioner, is preparing a plan of campaign for next year to insure the adoption of the constitutional amendment providing for a tax of 10 cents on the hundred dollar valuation for road building.

Commissioner Buffum says the money now supplied by the state for road purposes is inadequate, and if Missouri is to accomplish anything in the way of securing permanent road construction, it is imperative that the people adopt this amendment.

He is engaged in obtaining names of all automobile owners in Missouri, the names of all road overseers, county highway engineers and all persons who live on good, permanently constructed roads.

If this amendment should be adopted it would produce, under the present valuation of property in Missouri, something like $1,800,000 annually.

There are 114 county highway engineers, 8,000 road overseers and approximately 28,000 owners of automobiles. There is no way of estimating the number of land owners and persons living on or closely adjacent to a good road.

With these forces welded into a compact, well organized army fighting for the adoption of the amendment, Commissioner Buffum believes it can win.

As soon as the names have been obtained he will begin the preparation of literature for distribution through the agencies named.

All the commercial clubs and similar organizations will be called upon to lend their aid. Owners of automobiles are enthusiastic in support of the plan of Commissioner Buffum.

At present the money distributed among the counties for road purposes does not exceed $300,000, hardly a drop in the bucket.

Mrs. John Schneider, Bettie and Beatrice Schneider of Arkoe visited over Tuesday night in Maryville with Mr. and Mrs. Claude Campbell.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Sandridge of Knobnoster, Mo., left for their home Wednesday morning, after a visit with James Mayes and family.

SECURED VALUABLE DATA.

The Inspection Trip of Township Board to Riverton, Ia., Well Worth It.

The members of the Polk township board, E. H. Bainum, E. P. Yowell and Ernest Wray, and the township engineer, W. H. Bainum, inspected some fine roads and bridges in Page county and Fremont, county, Iowa, on Tuesday as the guests of E. Smith of Riverton, Ia. The board and the engineer gathered some valuable data which will be of advantage to them in starting their work in this township next spring. The bridges are all of concrete and many of them are thirty feet wide. They made the trip in an automobile from Shenandoah and went over many miles of road.

The board was accompanied by E. C. Curfman and J. F. Hull, but owing to the cold weather Messrs. Curfman and Hull did not venture out of the hotel in Shenandoah, Ia., and even returned to Maryville on the first Wash train, not waiting for the other members of the party, who returned on the late train.

HOT WATER JACKET.

W. H. Whitney Seems to Have Solved Problem for Automobiles—Jacket on In-Take Pipe of Motor.

The writer having occasion to visit the repair shops of W. H. Whitney, and while there was much impressed with the hot water jacket that he was installing on the in-take pipe of a motor. Being interested in motor cars, he asked the purpose of the hot water jacket. Mr. Whitney's reply was, "that in cold weather gas would not vaporize as quickly as in hot weather, and by supplying heat to the in-take manifold caused the gas to vaporize quickly and make it easier to crank the motor. Also doing away with backfiring in the carburetor and giving more power to the motor."

The water is taken from the pump to one end of the jacket and passes through the jacket to the radiator, which causes the manifold to heat. At the lowest point, a drain is put in, so that water can be drained to prevent freezing. It has always been hard to start a motor in cold weather and sometimes impossible to do so without priming, and the reason is that the gas will not vaporize until the motor gets warm.

It seems that Mr. Whitney has solved the problem for all makes of cars, as this water jacket can be installed on any make of motor.

ABOUT THE DROUGHT.

The Weather Bureau of the U. S. Department of Agriculture Writes About the August Weather.

Weather Observer J. R. Brink received this week from the U. S. department of agriculture, weather bureau, their August report, and the following might be of interest to our readers during this cold spell:

The chief characteristic of August, 1913, was the excessive heat and the continued drought that prevailed over practically all the southern half of the drainage area. The month will long be remembered as one of the most disastrous from an agricultural standpoint ever experienced. At some places in the lower part of the Missouri valley district the drought, which began in April, remained unbroken at the end of the month. The hot, dry area embraced Missouri, Kansas, Iowa and Nebraska, and the rainfall in August, as well as in the preceding months, was mostly local. At some places it was quite heavy, but almost without exception it came in sudden downpours, which were not absorbed, as they ran off too rapidly. Barely, if ever, has there been as much sunshine in any one month as there was in August, 1913. Out of forty-six stations in Missouri, twenty-two of them had no cloudy days, and seven had only one. This lack of cloudiness, naturally, was attended by rapid evaporation, and on several days by hot, dry winds. There were not many unprecedented high thermometer readings, but the days on which the temperature was as low as the normal were few; this resulted in the highest August mean of record. Stock suffered owing to the drying up of pastures, and in places it had to be fed almost the full winter rations. A shortage of water existed in many localities and in some instances long hauls had to be made. Wells and streams that were never known to fail before dried up this year. No plowing could be done in the driest sections, and country roads were deep in dust at the end of the month. Numerous fires were reported, being due to the extremely dry condition of vegetation. In the dry, hot area the summer of 1901 probably is the only one that can be compared with the summer of 1913, and the latter doubtless was the more harmful on account of the dry weather beginning so early in the season.

August had the highest mean temperature for any August in the last twenty-six years. The average precipitation was .91 of an inch, which was only about one-fourth the normal amount. In August, 1901, the mean temperature for the state was 78.4; in August, 1913, it was 82.8.

BE CAREFUL ON HALLOWE'EN.

Two Days Away—You Can Have Good Time But No Destruction of Property Allowed.

It's only two days until Halloween—October 31. You had better watch out. This is the night when the young people, especially the impish boy, visit your home and take your wagon from the yard and haul it several blocks away from home or take your buggy and place it on the roof of your barn or your neighbor's barn.

Halloween night is the night of all nights in the year and the imps of spirit and flesh outdo themselves to make life miserable for all mankind—especially for the police. The gang which traverses the town from one end to the other doing mischief—which they believe is harmless—have a spotter out for the officers and while the watch-out is stalking the police his comrades are doing the devilment.

On Friday night there will be plenty of special men on duty to protect the property and those caught destroying property will be prosecuted. "We do not care for the young people having a good time," said Chief of Police Morberly, "but we will not tolerate any destruction of property."

Shelton Family in Quarantine.

County Physician Leslie Dean returned Tuesday evening from Burlington Junction, where he was called in consultation as to the cause of the death of the 3-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Shelton, who live near that place, who died Tuesday morning of a malignant throat trouble. Dr. Dean was of the opinion that it was a case of diphtheria, and the family will remain in quarantine. There are no cases as yet reported in the county.

UNDERWOOD AND THE SENATE.

The candidacy of Oscar Underwood
for the U. S. senate is a matter for regret in the house of representatives.
It is possible, of course, that he may be defeated in his state, but not likely.
He is brainy, has a pleasing personality and is popular wherever known.
Whether he wins a seat in the senate
or not, it probably means his retirement from the house, which he has served for twenty years.

The house has never had a leader
more popular than Underwood and never a more successful one. Always careful, cautious, diplomatic and pleasant even in the heat of bitter debate,
he never loses his head and rarely fails to carry his point. The Democratic members of the house are ready at any time, as was recently evidenced in his tilt with Capt. Hobson, to give him the glad hand en masse and cheer him to the echo. Such leadership is rare.

There are a number of aspiring statesmen who are casting covetous eyes on the leadership to be surrendered by him but there is not a man

"I'll Just Div Her Funder."

Some years ago, several of them, in fact, a well known Maryville family was quietly enjoying Sunday morning Breakfast, when the mother incidentally mentioned to the 3½-year-old daughter in the home that a little girl of her acquaintance, living on the other side of town, had a little party
the day before because she was 4 years old, the mother having asked the few neighbor children in for the afternoon to celebrate the day. To the astonishment of the entire family, which consisted of the parents and two boys
a few years older than their sister, the little girl threw her spoon on the floor,
her little fists doubled up while her breath came quickly between tightened lips that had never before looked like anything but a rosebud, when she managed to say, "I'll jus' div her funder next time I see her for not 'vitime." The mother gasped faintly, the father reached around on the floor for the napkin he didn't drop and both boys ran to the kitchen with a fearful coughing spell. Weakly, both parents endeavored to quiet and soothe the baby who had in some unaccountable
way discovered it was an awful thing not to be 'vited to a party given by somebody she knew. They told her it was the neighbors and every-day playmates who were there and no one else
of the many friends the little girl had,
but she was firm in her belief that she had been outrageously treated, and said repeatedly that she was going to give her "funder," a byword that even her thoroughly alive brothers had not allowed their sister hear them say. It was thought best to let the little girl
alone for awhile, and she soon sobbed away her anger in father's arms, but it was a long time before she could be persuaded she had not been seriously treated.

But where had she gotten the idea?
That was the question with the family.
Then after some days it was remembered that Little Girl, who always went with mother on her afternoons out, had heard a like expressions several months before from a woman who chanced to learn during the afternoon's conversation that one of her friends had entertained informally one evening and she was not 'vited. Little Girl, though busy with her doll, had with wide open ears and eyes imbibed
the spirit of the whole thing, and,
though it had never been mentioned in her presence, the memory of it came to her at a time when she was, as she thought, in the same situation, and off
she flew.

Although Paul, the apostle, once said in effect that women should be seen and not heard, his inspired writings have furnished foundation for the greatest sermons in the world, have inspired men and women to the greatest deeds, and they will continue to do so as long as the world stands.
But one thing he said that is not often referred to you, you will find in the 13th chapter of 1 Corinthians:

"When I was a child, I spake as a child, I understood as a child, I thought as a child; but when I became a man, I put away childish things."

And that is why the social department of this paper is denied the pleasure and joy and pride of mentioning
many nice little social things that were really distinguished for something that came up unexpectedly and gave the guests a pleasure that would have done others good, or else it was a dinner company fine to contemplate
as being together. But no, the hostess could not let us speak of it because,
you know, she knew that some one would give her (excuse us, please)
"funder," or look it, which is worse, the next time they saw her. Lots of people have not grown with their bodies, especially in social matters; they still speak, understand and think as a child. Goodness alive, child, don't you know yourself, that you can't have all your friends every time you give a dinner? Well, neither can your friends. Let us try to grow to the full stature of manhood and womanhood, in body, mind and heart.

Shakespeareans Well Entertained.

The Shakespearean department of the Twentieth Century club was the guest of Miss Bertha Beal Tuesday afternoon. The hostess gave her guests
a delightful social time on their arrival. She received them at the door, and from the reception hall they were invited to the dining room by Mrs. G.
B. Holmes to a luncheon of coffee,
fruit cake, salted nuts and bonbons.
Mrs. Ferdinand Townsend and Miss Jennie Garrett presided at the dining table, which was handsomely laid with a venetian cloth, with center of varied colored chrysanthemums and red oak leaves. Assisting Mrs. Townsend and Miss Garrett were Miss Clara Bellows,
Mrs. Gallatin Craig and Mrs. J. D.
Thomas. After luncheon Mrs. M. J.
Honnold invited the company to the music room, where a victrola concert was given by the hostess. The guests of the club were Mrs. Laura Beal, Miss Ailie Beal, Mrs. George P. Bellows,
Mrs. Arthur A. Leet, Miss Alma Nash,

HERE'S $150 A MONTH

Increase Your Present Income This Amount and Get Somewhere

There is Money in This Printed Message for You. Read it.

We want every reader of this printed message to ask himself: "Do I want to rise above the ordinary, commonplace existence that goes with a small, limited income? Have I a desire to BE SOMEBODY in this world, to attain a place among the SUCCESSFUL men and women who really accomplish something? Most of us have. The world has no use for failures, but it applauds SUCCESS."

YOU CAN SUCCEED—you can make more money than you are now earning.

You can increase your income in the amounts we named above. Oh, yes, you can. Don't say, "I simply cannot see how I can do it." That one remark is the mark of failure. The "I can" and "I will" person is always welcomed by the handmaidens of SUCCESS. What are you today—a salary slave, a wage earner, or depending on the meager profits from some small business; do you run a boarding house, or wait on table, or clerk in a store or any one of a thousand and one vocations that allow you but the mere necessities of life? WHY NOT DO BETTER? WHY NOT BE SOMEBODY? Yes, you can! This printed message is the opportunity, the open sesame to bigger, brighter things; it is the calling of OPPORTUNITY—the fabled old lady who visits us so very, very seldom.

Why not be associated with SUCCESSFUL men and women who have adopted a profession that is not alone lucrative, but is pleasant, educational, performed at will, and can be successfully accomplished by any person who can read, write and observe. No, dear reader, we are not going to ask you to join a correspondence school and TRY FOR THE UNATTAINABLE. Nor to buy a batch of technical books that few, very, very few persons, outside the authors can understand. Listen, read and let this truth soak in, permeate!

We are an organization of SUCCESSFUL men and women photoplaywrights banded together for the mutual benefit of each member. We are co-operative, we are SUCCESSFUL. We hold out to you your measure of success. WE MAKE YOU SUCCEED. The technical work WE DO. Few people are mentally trained for that part of the work. But EVERY PERSON is trained by nature to provide the ground work, the skeleton on which the trained expert builds his finished product. You are starting now at a safe, sane and sure method. We ACTUALLY NEED YOU. Probably you cannot realize this. But the fact remains; because with us, this motto holds, "One for all and all for one."

We have grown from a mere affiliation of a few souls buying experience dearly—right here on the ground, where 57 actual producing motion picture companies are rolling up film footage many thousands of feet a week. We have assisted each other, have taken in a few more from time to time. MADE THEM SUCCEED, because we brook no failure. And now, we are ready to extend the branches of this unique organization into the western states and accept a limited membership from each section, each state. The newness, the freshness, the out-of-the-ordinary happenings that occur in every habitable spot in this country are ALL WORTH MONEY. Catch the idea? We relieve all the harassing details from your shoulders; we care for the marketing and its attendant delays by mail. WE are on the spot and KNOW HOW. Often we ourselves purchase.

Let us repeat, BE SOMEBODY. Get away from the fetters of a limited salary or wage or income. Join yourself with a SUCCESS that is everyone's due. Participate in the pleasures of life that your Maker intended you to enjoy. There is ample room for all, but for the present we limit our membership and for that reason write TODAY. WRITE NOW. Write for the pamphlet that holds out to you the keys to freedom and happiness. Get in the band wagon of SUCCESS with us. If you don't you alone are to blame. A postal will do, and just say, "Send me details FREE." No obligation at all. Address your inquiry to

VOTE ON CENTRAL BANK STANDS SIX TO SIX

Senate Committee Reaches Deadlock Stage of Action.

Washington, Oct. 29.—A threatened deadlock in the senate banking and currency committee over the proposal to substitute a government owned central bank for the regional reserve bank plan in the administration currency bill became apparent when the committee began executive consideration of the measure. Discussion was confined to the central reserve bank proposal and while no vote was taken the debate disclosed six senators for the government controlled central bank and six for the administration regional system.

The five Republicans on the committee, Senators Weeks, McLean, Nelson, Crawford and Bristow, argued for the central bank. They were joined by Senator Hitchcock, one of the Democrats, who has opposed the administration bill in many of its provisions. Senators Reed and O'Gorman, who had expressed themselves in favor of the central bank plan, swung into line with the other Democrats for the administration plan.

Chairman Owen said that he believed that the administration plan finally would be adopted.

MRS. HENNING COLLAPSES

Cross-Examination of Woman in Funk Case Causes Illness.

Chicago, Oct. 29.—Judge Pam, before whom Daniel Donahoe and Isaac Stiefel are being tried on a charge of conspiring to defame Clarence S. Funk, ruled that Funk's affidavit regarding the collection of funds to elect William Lorimer to the United States senate was admissible.

The affidavit first made its appearance in the suit brought by John C. Henning asking $25,000 damages from Funk, whom he charged with alienating the affections of Mrs. Henning. Funk made the affidavit in connection with his contention that the Henning suit was brought at the instance of persons seeking revenge for his testimony that Edward Hines, a political lieutenant of Senator Lorimer, had sought a contribution from him, explaining that it "cost $100,000 to put Lorimer over." It was stated that the affidavit would be read during cross-examination of Mrs. Josephine Henning, wife of John C. Henning, whose illness interrupted her testimony.

She collapsed again while under cross-examination. She lost consciousness and Judge Pam ordered a recess taken.

Christianize Turkey for $1,000,000.

Tracy, president of the Anatolia college, Turkey, before the American board of commissioners for foreign missions here. Dr. Tracy reviewed the conditions in Turkey during the last few years and predicted with the proper support the American missionaries now there could bring the nation out of its darkness to Christianity.

BRONCHITIS CONQUERED.

Royersford, Pa., Man Tells How.

At this season of year with such sudden changes, it is so easy to take cold, and almost before one is aware there is inflammation in the bronchial tubes—a hard cough, and unless checked in time chronic pulmonary troubles may result.

Townsend Young of Royersford, Pa., says: "A severe bronchial trouble contracted caused me much difficulty about breathing. My chest felt clogged up and there was considerable soreness. I tried different remedies without help; but I am glad to say that Vinol cured my bronchial trouble, which had lasted for three months. My breathing is all right and the soreness entirely gone from my chest."

Vinol contains the curative, healing principles of fresh cods' livers (with out oil) and tonic iron. We guarantee to be delicious in taste and to satisfy you with its medicinal effects. Orser-Henry Drug Co., Maryville, Mo.—Advertisement.

MISSOURIAN IS HOLDER OF NO. 1

Marvin Tritch Wins First Choice at Land Drawing.

NEBRASKA MAN IS SECOND.

Charles S. Reynolds of Loup City is Holder of Third Number Taken from Box—Crowds Watch Drawing at North Platte.

North Platte, Neb., Oct. 29.—The last large tract of Nebraska government land was parceled out by Uncle Sam when a drawing for 538 homes in the Nebraska national forest reserve, situated near this city, and the Nebraska military reservation was held.

Marvin Tritch of Kirksville, Mo., was the fortunate person who drew the magic number one. He will have to pay the government about $1,100 for the quarter section he chooses, but valuations as high as $15,000 already have been placed on this 160 acres he will be entitled to file upon.

Nebraska and Missouri citizens were among the most fortunate, although Iowa and South Dakota had a share in the glory.

With the drawing over, there was an exodus on trains which emptied the city of thousands who remained after the registration closed for the drawing. Judge Witten will conduct the filings from Hyannis, Neb., which is located near the lands to be filed upon.

List of Lucky Ones.

"SYRUP OF FIGS" FOR CONSTIPATED CHILD

Delicious "Fruit Laxative" Can't Harm Tender Little Stomach, Liver and Bowels.

Every mother realizes, after giving her children "California Syrup of Figs," that this is their ideal laxative, because they love its pleasant taste and it thoroughly cleanses the tender little stomach, liver and bowels without griping.

When cross, irritable, feverish or breath is bad, stomach sour, look at the tongue, mother! If coated, give a teaspoonful of this harmless "fruit laxative," and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food passes out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. When its little system is full of cold, throat sore, has stomach ache, diarrhoea, indigestion, colic—remember, a good "inside cleaning" should always be the first treatment given.

Millions of mothers keep "California Syrup of Figs" handy; they know a teaspoonful today saves a sick child tomorrow. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups printed on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here, so don't be fooled. Get the genuine, made by "California Fig Syrup company."—Advertisement.
